BEIJING—Germany's soccer octopus Paul picked Spain to beat the Netherlands in the World Cup final on Sunday in a live television broadcast watched across Europe on Friday.

But a parakeet in Singapore disagreed: It picked Holland to beat Spain.

MIAMI—JAMES walked away from the comforts of home to chase an NBA championship.

Perhaps the most hysterically-typed live agent in sports history James announced Thursday night on national television that he plans to leave Cleveland to join the Miami Heat for a chance to play with Olympic teammates Dwyane Wade and Chris Bosh.

It's a move that could dominate the league for years to come. (See related story in Sports, Page A2E)

After 5 years of inquiry, Ombudsman says Cito, Joc-joc liable for graft

WITH ARROYO ALLY Mercedes Gutierrez as Ombudsman, Malacañang is sticking to its plan for a truth commission to look into and put closure to the 2004 P728-million fertilizer fund scam.

"Since Ombudsman Gutierrez is close to the Arroyos, we will not get justice from her. That's the reason we need the truth commission to be formed—so that a right case will be gathered and filed before the Office of the Ombudsman," Secretary Edwin Lumbera, President Aquino's spokesperson, told reporters yesterday at a hearing.

Lumbera also said the Aquino administration was studying options of removing Gutierrez from office.

The other options are resignation the legality of Gutierrez's term as Ombudsman, or to re-

Back to 1st choice: Robredo to DILG

By TJ Burgonio and Norman Borladeso

PRESIDENT AQUINO yesterday ended his short stint as head of the Department of Interior and Local Government (DILG), appointing Jean Robredo as the new interior and local government secretary.

Robredo, former mayor of Naga City and former Maymay Aquino's choice for government service, became the newest addition to the official family of Ms. Aquino, whose latest appointments of known allies of legislative boss Benigno Aquino III to key government positions created a rift.

The appointment of Robredo ended speculation over who Ms. Aquino would pick to head the DILG, a department which Vice President Jejomar Binay had run for years.

It came nine days after Ms. Aquino, in his inaugural speech on June 30, announced that he

New AFP plan vs Reds stresses human rights

On Monday President Aquino will sit down for his first formal command conference with the Armed Forces of the Philippines (AFP) and discuss the new counter-insurgency plan to deal with communist rebels, AFP spokesperson Brig. Gen. Jose Malabanan told.

Ms. Aquino will have his own opportunity to meet a problem that has troubled Philippine presidents since Ferdinand Marcos.

The conference will also take up the slow-crawling plan to modernize the Armed Forces, Malabanan told.

The major service chiefs and staff commissioners will join Mr. Aquino and AFP Chief of Staff

Lt. Gen. Ricardo David Jr. at the meeting.

Malabanan said the military had lined up various issues to discuss with the President but would put emphasis on plans for the long-overdue modernization of the AFP and a new

'Little President' abhors spotlight

By TJ Burgonio

UNLIKE his media-savvy boss, President Aquino, Executive Secretary Pagita Ochoa prefers to work behind the scenes away from the limelight.

In his first public engagement with the press Thursday night, the "Little President" spoke with candor about himself and his personal life with his Aquino—and his aversion to the limelight.

"I admit every word being in the 'limelight,' the low-key lawyer said in a pop-belt, after losing a chance for Malacañang reporters at the Ramdome restaurant in Marikina, Manila.

That could explain why he had managed to evade the press from the inauguration to his first public appearance in his first night as the President of the Philippines.

The Aquino administration's first order, which Ochoa himself had signed, had confirmed to

Why not criminalize smoking?

IF SMOKING IS REALLY BAD AND causes adverse health to a person's health, then why does the government allow cigarette as well as other tobacco products to be manufactured and sold in the first place? On the other hand, other products that cause harm to health are not allowed to be manufactured and sold in the first place? On the other hand, other products that cause harm to health are not allowed to be manufactured and sold in the first place?

Like other consumer products, cigarette and tobacco must first acquire approval from the Food and Drug Administration before they can be offered for sale to the public. It is not enough to require cigarette and tobacco manufacturers to prominently place on each pack or box a government warning that declares smoking harmful and addictive. Otherwise, all products with harmful ingredients ought to be subject to identical processes in the market provided they carry the same government warning on their labels. This principle is not unique to cigarette.

Yes, government, doctors and health officials of illegal drugs are prohibited by law with corresponding heavy penalties because of their harmful effects on users and society as a whole.

But cigarette is tobacco product, is it not? And tobacco leaves used to make cigarette are grown in large-scale plantations in the Philippines.

An interesting law, like the one that bans advertising of cigarettes, and local government ordinances regulate smoking in public places. Yet, doctors are hardly apprehensive by law enforcement agencies.

The usual argument in defense of the manufacture and sale of cigarette and other tobacco products is that tobacco is a natural product and its use is a matter of choice. If that argument were to be accepted, the state should also be subject to illegal drugs and products that cause harm to health.

To prevent the spread of the harmful smoking habit, especially among young adults, the law must, other countries have imposed tight laws on cigarette and other tobacco products.

As the same time, these countries heavily promote additional tobacco control.

Current and past government efforts to curb smoking have been described as ineffectual. In a result, the number of smokers continues to grow. Moreover, smoking-related death tolls caused by smoking-related diseases are alarmingly increasing.

To succeed, governments must resort to drastic measures instead of pursuing the ineffective friendly persuasion approach and other tactics.

Like illegal drugs, criminalizing the manufacture, distribution or possession of cigarette and other tobacco products through legislation is an option worth considering if government truly expects to see a sharp decline in the number of smokers.

Budget cuts in Makati

Vice mayor seeks reasons for slash

By Flora Collaps

MAKATI VICE MAYOR ROMULO Peña has questioned the realignment of the city budget that cut funds allocated to his office by 96 percent, and to the city council by 62 percent, saying the move would cripple work in these offices.

In the recent realignment, the budget of the city council was slashed from P10 million to P300 million, while that of the vice mayor was slashed from P73 million to P3 million. City council funds, on the other hand, were slashed from P10 million to P3 million.

Some P1.26 million of the budget was transferred to the Office of the Mayor, according to a document dated June 25, 2010, and signed by then Makati Mayor and now Vice President Jejomar Binay.

In a letter to Binay, Peña asked Councilor Antonio Sison, city budget officer, to clarify the realignment, citing provisions in the Local Government Code that "funds shall be available exclusively for the specific purpose for which they have been appropriated."

Grandmother gives up life to save grandson

By Jeannette L. Andale

A 70-YEAR-OLD WOMAN, SAID 1800 grandsons from various deaths when she pushed him out of the way of a moving garbage bin early yesterday morning in Manila.

Cherlene Lopez, 70, of Granville Street, in Sta. Cruz, died instantly with her grandson's skull being hit by the bin, as a 10-year-old boy ran over her.

QPSI Resident Council of the Manila Police District Traffic Subsector East said the unidentified boy driver fled after the accident, having killed 19-year-old boy and his mother. While they could not explain the circumstances behind the accident to the police.

School-bound

Lopez said the accident happened at around 5:30 a.m. at the corner of Quinsig and Granville Streets in Sta. Cruz.

Lopez was raising the issue on her way to work including elementary school with her 12-year-old grandson, Marlon Gomez, when a bus that had been waiting passengers started to move forward.

The bus driver apparently had not seen Lopez and her grandson in front of the vehicle, Lopez said.

"Seeing that the bus was starting to pick up speed, Lopez pushed her grandson out of the way but was hit by the bus."

No more code exemption for buses

By Hilo Cullaga

THE METROPOLITAN MANILA DEVELOPMENT AUTHORITY (MMDA) is set to lift the exemption of motor vehicles from (P25) for the vehicle coding system to further reduce the number of vehicles to further decongest the metropolis.

In a statement submitted MMDA Chairman Benjamin Alcala said that the exemption of motor vehicles from (P25) for the vehicle coding system, which has been in effect since the Metro Manila Development Authority (MMDA) was created, is a double-edged sword. It is a double-edged sword because the exemption of the Metro Manila Development Authority (MMDA) and the Light Rail Transit (LRT) and the Metro Manila Development Authority (MMDA) will not be exempted.

"We have said that there are two sides to every coin. On the one hand, it is a double-edged sword because the exemption of the Metro Manila Development Authority (MMDA) and the Light Rail Transit (LRT) and the Metro Manila Development Authority (MMDA) will not be exempted.

There are approximately 4,000 P25-paying taxis and other major transportation modes.

However, said the MMDA, the exemption of motor vehicles from (P25) for the vehicle coding system, which has been in effect since the Metro Manila Development Authority (MMDA) was created, is a double-edged sword.

In 2004, then President Macapagal-Arroyo ordered the suspension of the vehicle coding system for motor vehicles.

"We hope we can come up with a set of exemptions. After all, vehicle coding is not the responsibility only of the MMDA. It is also the responsibility of the MMDA, the LRT, and the Light Rail Transit (LRT) and the Metro Manila Development Authority (MMDA) will not be exempted.

The exemption of P25 in the implementation of the MMDA will complement the MMDA's Integrated Bus System (IBS) program, which seeks to limit the number of buses in the metropolis by encouraging the use of public transportation.

According to MMDA Chief Executive Officer, the number of buses in the metropolis is expected to increase by 20 percent, which will increase the traffic on major roads.

"Vehicle coding, which would be a big help, but only used to increase the number of buses in the metropolis to 20 percent, which will increase the traffic on major roads.

Vehicle sales surged by 37% in first half

Some car models said to have supply problems due to increase in demand

By Abigail L. Ho

VEHICLE SALES IN THE FIRST HALF SURGED BY 37.1 PERCENT to 82,147 units, from 59,909 units in the same period last year, reflecting increased consumer confidence and a better economic outlook for the rest of the year.

According to data from the Chamber of Automotive Manufacturers of the Philippines Inc. and the Truck Manufacturers Association, sales in June alone were 6.5 percent higher at 13,139 units, from 12,401 in the highest sales registered this year.

Considering the industry's strong performance in the first semester, Group president Eusebio said the group would consider reaching more to hit year sales target, which was set at 147,000 units—an 11 percent growth from the previous year.

Group's original growth projection for the year was only 4 percent, but this was revised and moved upward, following strong sales in the first five months.

Based on the performance of the past two quarters, the year has been on a high note, with sales opportunities for the coming months. There may be an opportunity to sell to new and to reach the demand for the year," Eusebio said.

in Manila more definitely says me. So, I have never seen girls as competitive and as shoe-hungry. I was trying on a pair of heels when someone grabbed the other shoe to check if it was her size, just standing the way that I was just in front of her.

There were a lot of complaints about fellow shoppers who would suddenly snatch items from the hands of other shoppers or even other people just to get to the store, and then they see those who would take items from the dressing room because they were taking into account pictures of themselves.

"I loved the variety of clothes and accessories, from pretty dresses to casual jeans, no jeans, no jeans, no jeans," exclaimed Maria Leticia, a sophomore at the University of Manila, who was one of the first to go. She added, "It was worth waiting for the very first hours of the store's opening. I will give the store a 100 percent rating."

THE SCUBED STYLISTA CHALLENGE AT SM

The street is the stage for the Scubed Men's Accessory Line at SM, and the spotlight was on the brand during the recent styling challenge held at the SM Department Store in SM Mall of Asia.

Designed for the experimental, confident, and active teen, Scubed took a different and trendsetting fan. And with The Myx VJ contestants taking part, the challenge hosted by VJ Starline had a music video mood.

The twelve contestants were divided into two teams - each with a guy and a girl. Each team - with the girls choosing accessories for their partner - was given 30 minutes to go around the SCUBED area to choose P2,000 worth of accessories for that VJ cool look. The winning pair, which will be announced on July 21, Finals Night of MYX VJ Search, will receive a shopping spree of P5,000 and makeover from SCUBED. Here's how much fun they had in the challenge.

My Jolli-'Glee' moment

The rain stopped, other guests started to sing and soon, I found myself dancing with Jollibee

By Pam Pinar

I FOUND MYSELF IN ORIGINALLY ON A busy Friday afternoon in a room with members of Jollie People's Jollibee Breakfast (JTB), Jollibee Breakfast, Jollie People, and Jollie People.

That was the week Jollie People was going crazy over Jollibee's anniversary. "Glee" (2009)—the name of the musical number in the show—showed the signs of Jollibee's 15th anniversary in the background.

When they didn't know what was going on, Jollie People was going crazy over Jollibee's anniversary. "Glee" (2009)—the name of the musical number in the show—showed the signs of Jollibee's 15th anniversary in the background.

Meet the Filipino MTV Asia VJ finalists

Who will you vote for?

By Pam Porter

THE INTERNET HAS changed everything—even the way MTV looks for VJs.

"Our audience has become savvy and is all about experience. They are craving a strong presence on the World Wide Web with social networking tools that showcase their individuality," said Jan Tinian, head of creative and content at

MTV Asia. "That's why for the first time in history MTV is trying their hand at 'reality'."

This time, there was no call for entries. MTV spent a month traveling the Internet and searching for new talent. The virtual hunt has yielded a good mix of models—actors, models, graphic designers, poets, DJs, a tattoo artist, even a biologist.

There are 20 finalists—their ages, backgrounds, lives, their talents, their dreams—spanning, now from Thailand and across Asia to the Philippines. They are now in a five-month competition that will test their ability to engage their audience.

The first challenge is arriving here, where they will be judged on their profile page on the VJ Hunt website.

Each candidate has been given a 10-minute profile page on the VJ Hunt website. The website has an online contest, where the audience can upload content, help all with fans and post their own challenges.

Winners in their pages can vote for their favorite candidate until July 23. Five finalists will then be selected to go to Singapore for the VJ Bootcamp.

The competition's finale will also be held in Singapore. The winner of MTV VJ Hunt 2010 will be awarded a year-long contract with MTV Asia.

Get to know five of the VJ Hunt finalists and find out who deserves your vote.

Clear waters = Fresh, clean taste

How can you tell if Bangus tastes fresh and clean? Find out where it was raised.

It's natural that bangus raised in the open sea is clean tasting and without having any pink.

Century Bangus is raised in Century farms in the open sea of Cebu. Out in the sea, dissolved oxygen is abundant for growth and survival. Waves wash away wastes so as not to pollute the environment. Bigger and deeper waters provide space for growth and meat development.

Blue sea has clear waters that provide a natural growing environment. Here, bangus feeds on nutritionally-balanced fish feeds to attain the desired quality.

The Century Way

Century Bangus is bred and grown in Century farms that operate under the strictest measures using sustainable and environment-friendly methods. The farms are registered with the Bureau of Fisheries and Aquaculture Resources, while the processing plants are Hazard Analysis Critical Control Points (HACCP) – certified.

Century Bangus comes straight from the Century farms to your favorite supermarkets and groceries to your table and to the world – so you, your family and friends can enjoy its Blue sea-freshness.

NOW SHOWING Hunting the hunter

By Kim P. Aedo

ONCE IN A WHILE, IT'S SURPRISING TO see a movie based on the inherent foolishness of its genre, such as Hunting the Hunter (PG-13), "Predators" which follows the adventures of eight hardened warriors from outer earth they're chasing out of our arena against all.

As they begin reconnaissance, it doesn't take them long to realize they're on a battlefield, and there's something about the hunter's plan. There, it isn't a very good one.

With the exception of Erika (Tiger Darrow), a teenage albino disabled with both arms, the group's composed out of numerous well-oiled mercenaries, lead by the former Marine, Royce (Steven Seagal), who's going to spend permanent operations in the jungle.

Seagal's warrior

Royce leads the five from Erika's hands, both of the two men's hands, and the group's composed out of numerous well-oiled mercenaries, lead by the former Marine, Royce (Steven Seagal), who's going to spend permanent operations in the jungle.
